HOBBS AND HIS FLAG.

AN EPISODE OF WAR DAYS IN THE HARBOR OF HONG-KONG.An impatient Yankee Skipper Who Had Confidence in His Ship and Who Dared the Alabama—Flying Two Flags in Neutral Waters—How the Escape Was Made."During the greater part of the war," said the retired skipper, "there were a large number of American clippers stalled in Hong-Kong harbor, having orders to remain there from their owners, who feared the all-placed captains and officers, as many of us were anxious to go home and ship in the navy, but orders were orders. We could not leave the ships, and the frequent visits of the Alabama herself to the harbor, forcing herself into our midst," as the saying goes, were very vivid reminders that neutral waters were a pretty good sort of an invention."Although we passed the long weeks and months as pleasantly as we could, with all kinds of arrangements for killing time, both on shipboard and on shore, there was of course a continual and concerted growl going up from our little band of Yankee skippers, and old Hobbs was the star growler of us all."His ship was the Humming Bird, a brand new clipper sailing from Boston.
The trip out to Hong-Kong had been her maiden one, and it was chiding to Hobbs not very smooth temper to have her idle so early in her career. Having great faith in the ship's speed and in his own seamanship, he was more than anxious to put to sea and let Semmes catch him if he could, but like the rest of us his orders to remain were positive."Occasionally a ship would manage to clear by sailing under some foreign flag, but as it was a complicated process involving fathoms of red tape and very often fell through just when everything seemed favorable it was not resorted to very often. When it was tried, however, old Hobbs would go on his beam ends with wrath. He would fume and rant, casting aspersions on the patriotism of the owners, the agents, the officials, and even the Chinese crew. He was so intensely patriotic that to see a good Yankee craft sail under false colors would keep him boiling for a week."You can see what his feelings were when one day he was ordered to proceed to Sumatra under the British flag. He fumed, ranted and swore and then fumed, ranted and swore over again, with a few extra choice nautical anath-emas thrown in for emphasis. This necessary operation over, he sent ashore to the native sailmaker's for a British flag —the smallest to be had. When it came aboard—it was about 2 by 4 feet in size —Hobbs looked at it askance and ordered it to be put out of sight until sailing day."Sailing day arrived, and the British flag was seen fluttering quietly from its proper place on the Humming Bird. It attracted mighty little attention, however, for the Alabama was entering the harbor. She floated slowly along and dropped anchor exceedingly close to the Humming Bird. About this time the harbor master was seen in his boat being rowed rapidly toward Hobbs' ship, and a huge bundle of bunting about the size of an old shellback's sea chest was rapidly hauled to the maintop of the Humming Bird."The harbor master pulled up alongside the Humming Bird and yelled for the captain. It could be seen that he was angry about something. Hobbs came to the rail in his plug hat and long tailed bottle green coat, the customary uniform of a skipper in those days, and asked the harbor master what he could do."I want you to take down that flag instantly, sir," said the harbor master.

"Guess not," said Hobbs.

"It's a disgrace, sir, and an insult to hoist such a flag as that!""What's the matter with the flag?" said Hobbs, surprised."It's all wrong, sir; the proportions are all wrong. The field is too long for its width, and the rest of it is too wide for its length. The crosses are wrongly arranged, sir, and it is a vile caricature of an honored flag, sir! Remove it immediately!""Guess not," said Hobbs again. "That flag was bought in a British port and made by a British subject. He was a Chinaman, but that is neither here nor there. I don't care if it is the flag of Patagonia, so long as it was sold to me for that of England. Good morning!""The harbor master had nothing to say to this and started back, but he had no sooner done so than the main halliards were pulled, the bundle at the peak broke out, and in a second the stars and stripes were waving before the astonished eyes of the harbor master, the Yankee skippers and Captain Semmes of the Alabama. Indeed, so large was Old Glory in this particular case that it almost brushed the Alabama's decks, the vessels being so near together. The huge flag had been presented to the ship at her launching and to the excited spectators on this occasion seemed larger than the ship herself."The harbor master put about, angrier than before, and demanded explanations."What does that flag mean, sir?" said he."That's my house flag," said Hobbs;
"the trademark of my owners. I do not know whether that red rag up there is humpbacked and clubfooted or not, but you can't give me any points on the construction of that article up there with the stripes on it. I propose to fly that flag how I please, when I please and where I please, whether it be in Hong-Kong or in L. A. From now on, good morning!" and Hobbs went below."Semmes was so angry over the stars and stripes flaunting in his face that he swore to blow the Humming Bird out of the water if he ever caught her outside, no matter what flag she sailed under.
However did it, however, as this voyage lung fire as so many others did, and as sorrowfully after this the Alabama exchanged the Keesauke certain little civil-ty we all know about his blowing days over."—New York Sun.

SILVER CONFERENCE.

The Denver chamber of commerce in conjunction with other commercial exchanges of that city has sent an address to every commercial organization in the southern and western states on the subject of silver, which sets forth the fact that the unconditional repeal of the present silver law and reducing the currency to a gold basis must result in closing every silver mine, mill and smelter in the country, crippling commerce and ruining the wheat, cotton and wool industries. To prevent this the chamber of commerce and other business organizations of Denver resolved to invite similar organizations in other cities throughout the silver, wool, wheat and cotton districts of the west and south, to appoint one or more delegates to meet in convention at St. Louis at an early day and take such action as may be deemed best to further the cause of free coinage.

Nevada ought to be represented at the convention. Its citizens are directly interested in the questions involved and its voice should be heard in a convention of representative men from the western and southern states protesting against the degradation of silver to a mere commodity and demanding that in the interest of the country it be raised to its old standard. Idaho, Montana, Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona are moving, why does not the Silver State arouse itself?

ORGANIC MAIL ROBBERY.

For some years past the loss of mail upon the Grand Trunk railroad in Nevada has been great. American pouches consigned to Canada and the mails from Montreal and Toronto to the western states have been rifled and not infrequently pouches have disappeared and no trace of them could be discovered. This has been a source of great annoyance to the postal authorities of both countries and the entire force of inspectors in Canada and thirty United States postoffice inspectors have been vainly endeavoring to catch the thieves or ascertain how the mails were stolen. Recently Inspector James E. Stuart dressed as a tramp and beat his way on the Grand Trunk trains with the determination of solving the mystery. He spent seven days watching the mail cars on the Canadian border and then arrested Charles Ford, superintendent of the Grand Trunk and Port Huron, upon whose person 348 stolen letters were found. Ford confessed that he had been robbing the mails, and as he was one of the most trusted employees of the Grand Trunk he was not even suspected of such an offense. It is not yet known whether he had confederates or acted solely on his own account, but his arrest will doubtless stop mail robbing on the Grand Trunk for the present.

HAWAIIAN FINANCES.

One of the objections urged against the annexation of Hawaii by the enemies of the measure was that the United States would have to assume the debt of the islands. The financial statement presented by minister Damon just before the sailing of the Australia shows that there is no cause for hesitation on that score. The customs revenue of the islands for the past five years would amount in twenty years when the debt falls due, to $6,419,200 while the debt with interest would foot up $5,887,587 leaving a surplus of revenue of $731,700. This leaves out of the calculation all duties which have heretofore been paid on imports from the United States. Under annexation duties would be increased and trade greatly enlarged. These facts explode the idea that Hawaii would be a burden to the United States. The benefits it would bring have already been set forth.—Bulletin.

A CONSPIRACY has been discovered in Honolulu having for its object the overthrow of the provisional government and the restoration of the monarchy. Claus Spreckels and James Campbell, two of the wealthiest sugar planters on the islands are said to have promised the conspirators a million and a half dollars to assist them in restoring the old order of government. If Hawaii is going to adopt Central American tactics and have a revolution every time the moon changes, the United States should not be in too great a hurry to annex the islands.

THE DENVER NEWS says John B. Henderson's tirade against silver inflicted upon the public by the Associated Press is "a voice from the tomb." It indicates, however, what influence controls the Associated Press. The sordid of a goldbug is given in full, while a national convention of the friends of bimetalism is limited to ten lines.

BLAND, the Missouri silver champion, says "If the Democratic party declines to give us bimetallic free coinage then I am for the party that will." If Wall street controls congress then Bland and other straightout silver congressmen will join the silver party and the next campaign will be fought and won under the double-standard banner.

EASTERN papers think the progressive element of the Republican party will steal the platform on which General Weaver was nominated at Omaha and adopt it as their own. Such leaders as Clarkson and Depew think the party must get out of the old rut or it will be buried.

THE IOWA CYCLONE.

FORT DODGE, Ia., July 7.—Seventy-four people are dead and at least five more to die and over a hundred are injured as a result of the cyclone that started at Quincy and ended with awful results at Pomeroy last night. At the latter place forty are dead and over a hundred are injured and five blocks of residences demolished, nothing remaining but kindling wood. Two hundred families are homeless, many having lost all. The business blocks were badly damaged and the postoffice, drug store and seven churches completely demolished.

The loss in Pomeroy will reach fully $50,000. All is chaos there. The residents still alive are in a dazed condition and it is very difficult to get information. The storm came from the northwest and did terrible work in literally one minute's time. An immense amount of damage was done to crops and the path of the storm is strewn with the carcasses of animals and in every direction there is nothing but wreck and ruin.

Immediately after the storm had passed the cries and moans of the injured were heartrending, and willing ones began the work of rescue. Their work was sickening, as people were found literally torn to pieces. Some with legs or arms drawn, others suffering with terrible wounds with their life ebbing out. Many of the dead were so disfigured that they were unrecognizable. The old postoffice was turned into a morgue and at one time contained twenty-six bodies. The Good Templars' hall and the hotels were turned into hospitals where every effort was made to relieve the unfortunate. The storm wiped out communication with the world and Ed Masterson started on a horse for Manson for help. He was stopped by a bridge being washed out, and in attempting to ford the river nearly drowned. He hailed a special train bearing officials of the Illinois Central and they backed to Manson, sent for assistance and then proceeded with help to Pomeroy. Another train with physicians and help followed shortly and soon the work of relief at Pomeroy was in progress. A train left here with nurses, bedding, food and coffins this morning and the interment of the dead commenced this afternoon.

Many remarkable escapes are chronicled. A year-old babe was found on the outskirts of the ruins, was entirely divested of clothing and uninjured. M. F. Mullen and family and five neighbors saved themselves by going into a cyclone cave, but their homes were completely demolished.

Many of the dead were found long distances from their homes and standing houses had boards driven through them by the force of the wind. Trees in the path of the storm were stripped even of bark and nothing escaped injury. Pomeroy was a thriving town of a thousand inhabitants.

The Spanish Caravels Welcomed to the Columbian Exposition.

Special to the JOURNAL.]

CHICAGO, July 7.—The morning mists were fast fading away in the July sun when the man of war Michigan, the revenue cutter and crew of the John and the coast survey steamer Blake, accompanied by a number of steam yachts and other craft, started up the lake to meet the caravels. They sighted the fleet off Evanston and at a signal from the Michigan all hoisted a salute of twenty-one guns was fired from each of the United States vessels, while the people from the other craft cheered and waved flags and the vessels themselves whistled a noisy greeting. Amid the booming of cannon, waving of flags, salutes of whistles, and in the presence of 100,000 people the Spanish caravel was welcomed to the world's Columbian exposition.

The caravels completed the long and eventful journey at 9 o'clock this afternoon when they cast anchor in the harbor at the world's fair. They were towed into port by the United States ship Michigan with an escort of half a hundred or more gaily decorated steamers, yachts and pleasure boats.

Avenge His Sister's Downfall.

Special to the JOURNAL.]

STOCKTON, Cal., July 7.—Louis Henry Schultz, an ex-sailor, who for several years has been working as a farm hand has surrendered himself and confessed to the murder of George Arbanasin, proprietor of the three-mile home on the Copperopolis road on the night of the Fourth of July. He says he committed the murder to avenge his sister, Clara Schultz, whose downfall Arbanasin had wrought under a promise of marriage and who committed suicide two years ago.

Since her death Schultz has been for Arbanasin. He did not know when he entered the three-mile home that Arbanasin was there, but he came on him unexpectedly. Schultz challenged him to fight. Arbanasin calling him vile names ran for his gun when Schultz shot him dead with a revolver.

Admission of Chinese.

Special to the JOURNAL.]

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Acting Secretary Hamlin instructed the collectors of customs, in order that the department may be fully advised concerning the admission of Chinese persons into the United States, to prepare and forward to the department statements showing the number of Chinese persons admitted by them from January 1 to June 30, 1893, and the reasons therefor, and the number to whom admission was refused and the reasons. The collectors are also directed to make a weekly report of Chinese persons seeking admission into the United States.

Cleveland Has a Tooth Pulled.

Special to the JOURNAL.]

BUZZARDS BAY, Mass., July 7.—President Cleveland is to-night feeling better than this morning. His knee is lame and his left foot swollen so he is obliged to wear a big shoe. The published report that the president is suffering with cancer is denied. Dr. Bryant says the president is absolutely free from cancer or malignant growths of any description and the reports are absolutely false. No operation was performed, except a bad tooth extracted. Dr. Bryant is of the opinion that the president will be able to go out in a day or two.

The Bodies of Fraser and Carlson Recovered.

Special to the JOURNAL.]

CARSON, July 7.—This morning Captain Griffin of the steamer Emerald discovered two bodies in Lake Tahoe about fifty feet below the surface. They were brought to the surface with fishing hooks and lines and proved to be the remains of Fraser and Carlson, drowned last Tuesday.

Speeches Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg and doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold at E. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

For Scrofula

"After suffering for about twenty-five years from scrofulous sores on the legs and arms, trying various medical courses without benefit, I began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and a wonderful cure was the result. Five bottles sufficed to restore me to health."—Bouffalo Lopez, 327 E. Commerce St., San Antonio, Texas.

Catarrh

"My daughter was afflicted for nearly a year with catarrh. The physicians being unable to help her, my pastor recommended Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I followed his advice. Three months of regular treatment with Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's Pills completely restored my daughter's health."—Mrs. Louise Rellie, Little Canada, Ware, Mass.

Rheumatism

"For several years, I was troubled with inflammatory rheumatism, being so bad at times as to be entirely helpless. For the last two years, whenever I felt the effects of the disease, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and have not had a spell since."—E. T. Hensbrough, Elk Run, Va.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative, effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance. Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Deferred Prison to Liberty.

Robert Robinson, better known as "Old Dick," a life convict in the northern prison, died Friday night at the age of 80. Robinson was notorious throughout all the northern part of Indiana among the thousands of excursionists who annually visit the prison as perhaps the first one on record who positively refused a pardon and regarded the prison as an acceptable home.

Robinson was sent to the prison at Joliet, Ill., in 1837 from Wayne county to serve a life sentence for murdering a man. Early in his prison career he formed a strong attachment for dumb animals and made pets of dogs, rabbits, squirrels and foxes. He also developed into a great hunter and trapper and would frequently turn his skill to financial account.

Once during the Maynoe regime Bob got lost while hunting in Porter county, west of the city, and actually hired a man to bring him back to the prison. In 1877 Governor Williams offered Robinson a pardon, but he rejected it.—Michigan City Cor. Chicago Tribune.

Through Trains on Trunk Lines.

The 26 west bound trains which run daily on the 8 railroads connecting New York with Chicago average only 8 through passengers each. The joint committee of the Trunk Line and Central traffic associations infer from this small number of through passengers that there are too many through trains running on all the roads. They use this as an argument that the New York Central should not put on its 20-hour limited between New York and Chicago and report that through trains ought to raise their fares as their time is quickened, adding the following extra rates to the regular fares:

Twenty-six hours..... $3
Twenty-four and one-half hours..... 2
Twenty and one-half hours..... 1
Twenty and one-half hours..... 10

This would make the cost of a trip on the Central's 20-hour limited, with $3 for the sleeping car, $35 each way, or $70 for the round trip.

The attempt to gauge the profits of running through trains by the number of through passengers is in the highest degree fallacious.—New York Advertiser.

The Largest Block of Coal.

An enormous cob of canal coal was recently raised from the Abram collieries, Wigan, and sent by train to the Alexandra dock for shipment. It is said to be the largest block of coal ever dug from the earth and weighs over 13 tons. It took nine months to hew it out of the seam. It is said that the cost of obtaining it was $1,000, or about $88 per ton. When raised, the cob was inclosed in a case of planks, the weight of cob and case being 18 tons 11 hundredweight. From Boston the coal will be conveyed by train to Chicago for the World's fair. There have also just been shipped from Liverpool several large blocks of salt rock from the Cheshire salt district. Some of them are skillfully carved into figures.—London Tit-Bits.

The Telegraph in China.

In a recent report United States Minister Denby of Peking says that by virtue of the Russo-Chinese telegraph convention the Chinese land telegraph lines have been connected with the Russian system. Messages can now be sent to all parts of the world from any telegraph station in China.

The cable negotiation of this convention, the cable companies have added 15 per cent to their charges, but messages can be sent on the Chinese lines at the previous rate of $3 per word, the cost of transmission across the Atlantic being added.

Three Welcome Ships.

Three steamships arrived at Montreal within two or three hours of each other on Thursday. One was loaded with gin, one with lemons, and one with sugar, and Montreal is content.—Exchange.
